Monday, August 21, 2017

1:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.

Location: TBA

Hosted by the College of Nursing

You will have the opportunity to meet in small groups with other entering students from the health science colleges to learn about each other's roles, discuss the core competencies related to interprofessional collaborative practice, and build teamwork and communication skills.

Your assigned location to meet with students from other disciplines for this activity will be communicated by August 15.

The participating health sciences disciplines include: Dentistry, Nursing, Optometry, Pharmacy, Medicine, Veterinary Medicine, Health and Rehabilitation Sciences, Public Health and Social Work. The goal of the program is for you to meet students from other health professions and begin to build important interprofessional skills, which research supports improves healthcare and health outcomes.

Objectives include:

1. Develop a better understanding of the scope and practice of the participating disciplines.
2. Begin to develop respect for the contribution made by each member of the health care team.
3. Describe the national core competencies for interprofessional collaborative practice.
4. Build interprofessional teamwork and communication skills.

In preparation for this event, you will need to read pages 14- 25 in the document Core Competencies for Interprofessional Collaborative Practice.
