Rabies vaccination series requirement for all

It is a requirement for all Vet Med students to have their Rabies series completed by the end of Autumn semester. This is a series of three shots :

3. Day 21 – 28: the third shot

You can complete this requirement over the summer while you are at home and can visit your family doctor or make appointments with the Health Center.

*If you plan to use private insurance you can make appt. through the Health Center within one month before class starts.

*If you plan to use OSU insurance you will need to wait until it is one week before class starts to start the three step process.
