ADMINISTRATIVE and PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

Highlights of Key Professional Leadership Activities:

- 2012- Present Chair, Global One Health Initiative, The Ohio State University. In this capacity, I have established a team of faculty members from 13 disciplines including seven health sciences and six additional colleges that resulted in developing a campus-wide global One Health initiative. Key accomplishments in this position include: 1) successfully led or co-led several successful extramural grants and gifts that are currently being implemented. Some examples include the OIE Twinning program (Univ. of Gondar), the Global Innovation Initiative (Brazil), the NIH eCapacity Building (east Africa) and National Cancer Institute (Ethiopia); 2) chaired and facilitated multi-college annual One Health Summer Institutes that resulted in training more than 500 students and early career faculty in more than 25 courses in Ethiopia and other east African countries; 3) provided service learning opportunities to more than 100 Ohio State students; 4) facilitated resource stewardship including a Linear Accelerator to the University of Gondar Medical Center.

2011-Present Founding President of the International Congress on Pathogens at the Human Animal Interface (ICOPHAI). Founded initially as the Global Veterinary Public Health and Biotechnology Consortium (VPH-Biotech), this partnership expanded from Eastern Africa to Latin America and also Asia Pacific nations. I have been instrumental in bringing together international partners from various developing regions as well as partners from the developed regions. Together with members of the executive committee, I have led the design, financing and execution of three successful biennial congresses including 2011 (Ethiopia), 2013 (Brazil) and Thailand (2015). It currently includes 994 network subscribers globally including 225+ institutes. More information: <http://icophai2011.org> <http://icophai2013.org> or <http://icophai.org>

2010-Present Director, Global Health Programs, College of Veterinary Medicine, The Ohio State University. As the founding Director, I have been instrumental in setting up strategic directions to establish successful and sustainable professional students' centered global programs. Major accomplishments at this position included: 1) established Memoranda of Agreements with nine strategic international partners in sub-Saharan Africa, Latin America and Asia-pacific regions; 2) Acquired large extramural funding to support service learning projects and scholarship for professional DVM and graduate students as well as visiting scholars from partner institutes; 3) Established an elective course in Global opportunities that attracts 50-60 health science students each year; 4) Increased the visibility and professional interaction between Veterinary Medicine, and other collaborating units. More information can be found at <http://vet.osu.edu/global>

2010-Present NIH Global Infectious Diseases, Molecular Epidemiology of Foodborne Pathogens east Africa Research and training capacity building program. As the Principal Investigator of this program, I played a major role in designing the program as well as acquiring two successful grants (D43 and R25) from NIH Fogarty International Center and also successfully executing the program in three countries: Ethiopia, Kenya and Tanzania. This program, in addition to providing 7 PhD and 2MSc fellowship to seven east African scientists, it allowed short-term training to more than 100 trainees from the partner institutes. This program has recently expanded an electronic capacity building to further maximize its impact on regional integration of research.

2008-Present Molecular Epidemiology of Infectious Diseases Global Training. I have been training global professionals in molecular epidemiology and molecular medicine since 2008. Together with team of experts, delivered this course in several countries including Brazil, Bulgaria, Ethiopia, Kenya, Mexico, Sudan, Tanzania, Thailand in addition to institutes within the U.S. Due to the increasing demand to this course, we developed an online version of the course that was released on iTunesU in January, 2014. As of Nov. 18, 2015, the online course enrollment has reached to 8,924 students. The course can be accessed at <https://go.osu.edu/MolEpid>

2001-Present Principal Investigator, Infectious Diseases Molecular Epidemiology Laboratory (IDMEL). I have been leading this research laboratory for the last 14 years at two different institutes, NC State University (2001-2006) and Ohio State University (2006- Present). The research activities within IDMEL have been supported through continuous extramural funds for the last 14 years of more than $4.1 million USD funding (since 2006 alone). I have trained 17 PhD students (9 as major advisor), 20 Masters (MSc or MPH- major advisor to 12), 6 post-doctoral researchers, more than 23 visiting scholars, 12 summer professional students and several undergraduates mentored at IDMEL. Together with collaborators and former trainees, we published 107 (Medline) or 130 (ISI Web of Science) indexed scientific manuscripts in reputable scientific journals.

1993-1996 Head Veterinarian, Sidama Zone, Ethiopia. In this capacity, I led the provincial veterinary medicine activities within the nine districts. I supervised a large team of field veterinarians and one central laboratory professionals including 9 Doctors, more than 27 animal health assistants and health and laboratory technicians. I was responsible for prevention and control of animal diseases, prevention of zoonotic and foodborne pathogens of human health significance to ensure safe food supply. I also oversaw effective implementation of the Pan African Rinderpest Campaign (PARC) in the zone in partnership with the regional PARC vaccination and surveillance team.
